

News Paper Clippings from June 19, 2007 – June 21, 2007

City, water agency agree on joint work

June 19, 2007 – The Press Enterprise

The city of Moreno Valley has reached an agreement with Eastern Municipal Water District over planned improvements along Sunnymead Boulevard.

School's solar effort earns 6th place finish

June 20, 2007 – The Press Enterprise

A team from Canyon Springs High School in the Moreno Valley Unified School District finished sixth out of 41 high schools in the fifth annual Solar Cup Competition...

Rubidoux officials propose increase in trash-collection rates

June 20, 2007 – The Press Enterprise

By Sandra Stokley

RUBIDOUX - The Rubidoux Community Services District board of directors is set to consider a 2007-2008 budget Thursday that holds the line on water and sewer rates...

Delta pumping eases shortage, but water storage is still low

June 20, 2007 – California Farm Bureau Federation

By Kate Campbell

With water supplies drastically reduced, farmers throughout the San Joaquin Valley are being warned that constraints on state and federal pumping facilities in the Sacramento-San Joaquin Delta may lead to water rationing and potential crisis.

Jump-started water pumps could be slowed down again

June 21, 2007 – The Californian

By Gig Conaughton

An environmental group has mounted a new legal challenge over an endangered fish that could once again slow the massive Northern California water pumps that deliver two-thirds of Southern California's water.

Smelt deaths again prompt lawsuit that aims to suspend water exports

June 21, 2007 – The LA Times

By Eric Bailey

SACRAMENTO — Warning that a recent boost in water exports is nudging the delta smelt closer to extinction, environmentalists have asked a federal judge to order state and U.S. officials to cut back pumping that imperils the tiny fish.

Governor takes bull by horns on delta

June 21, 2007 – Fresno Bee

By Dan Walters

...Schwarzenegger's aides quickly confirmed that by "conveyance," he meant a highly controversial peripheral canal, which would carry Sacramento River water around the delta to the head of the California Aqueduct,...

Residents air concerns about proposed dam repairs at Lake Perris

June 21, 2007 – The Press Enterprise

By Jennifer Bowles

Catherine Fields wanted to know whether a siren could alert residents if the seismically weakened dam at Lake Perris near her house topples in an earthquake before it is retrofitted.

A Summer Must: Only Water After Dusk

June 21, 2007 – www.enoughh2o.com