

Newspaper Clippings from April 11, 2008 – April 15, 2008

San Jacinto wetlands brings out the birders

April 15, 2008 – The Press Enterprise

By Diane A. Rhodes

More than 50 curious bird-watchers flocked to the wetlands Saturday to marvel at the variety of birds that live among the bulrushes and trees behind the Eastern Municipal Water District's Regional Water Reclamation Facility in San Jacinto...

Sun City water tank project under way

April 11, 2008 – The Californian

Bulldozers have been working on a Sun City hilltop for several days, as Eastern Municipal Water District constructs a 1.5 million gallon water storage tank, according to the district....

Water supply threats worsen

April 12, 2008 – The Californian

By Bradley J. Fikes

San Diego County has long had to worry about drought. It imports nearly all of its water from sources hundreds of miles away. Now it's struggling with what has been called a "man-made drought," a cut of up to 30 percent from Northern California rivers....