

GET INVOLVED

★ SEE SOMETHING,
SAY SOMETHING, DO SOMETHING

SAFETY FIRST WEEK

Safety in the workplace is everyone's responsibility. When it comes to creating a safe environment, the principle of "see something, say something, do something" is crucial. This means being vigilant and speaking up if you notice any hazards or potential risks. Whether it's a spill that needs cleaning up or a piece of equipment that isn't functioning properly, taking action to address the issue is essential for maintaining a safe work environment.

Stop Work Authority

Stop Work Authority is an important aspect of safety in the workplace. This empowers YOU to halt any job or task that you believe is unsafe. It is important for all employees to feel comfortable using their Stop Work Authority, as it can prevent accidents and injuries. By encouraging a culture where safety concerns are taken seriously, EMWD can prevent potential incidents before they occur. If you see something, you should not only say something, but do something; do not take time to find someone else to handle it because in that time someone else could get injured.

Identify Trends

Organizational learning is a key component of improving workplace safety. By reviewing and analyzing near misses, accidents and other safety incidents, EMWD can identify trends and root causes. This process allows for the implementation of corrective actions to prevent future occurrences. Learning from past experiences is essential for continuously improving safety protocols and preventing accidents.

Take Action

Engagement and proactive involvement is key for a strong safety culture. EMWD wants YOU to feel empowered to contribute to safety and encourages you to take action. It not only enhances the safety of the workplace but also boosts morale and productivity. By actively getting involved in safety planning and decision making, WE can create a culture where safety is a top priority for EVERYONE. Be part of the solution.

Attend Our Safety Fair!

- Lehigh Outfitters will be onsite today, January 25th, from 8am to 4pm, just outside the OMC Training Room. In addition to popular safety footwear brands, Lehigh will also have a 3D foot scanner and insoles available to find the right fit for you.
- Stop by the Ergo Expo inside the OMC Training Room to see what ergonomic items EMWD carries on hand.
- Public and Governmental Affairs (PGA) will have several clothing options available for viewing inside the OMC Training Room that are customized with the EMWD logo.
- Commemorate the day by stopping by the photo station located inside the OMC Training Room for a fun photo opportunity with Personal Protective Equipment (PPE) props!
